Safe Food Handling training to be held in Powell

The Wyoming Department of Agriculture will host a training class on safe food handling for temporary food booths May 14 in Powell.

This class is recommended for anyone planning to sell food to the public during an event this summer. It will focus on the rules and regulations governing temporary food booths and the safe handling of food before, during and after an event.

Temporary food permits may be obtained during the class.

The class will be held in the Center for Training and Development (1397 Ft. Drum Dr.) on the campus of Northwest College in Powell. It will begin at 7:30 a.m. and is expected to last one hour.

For more information, contact Chelle Schwope at mschwo@state.wy.us or (307) 548-2154, or Kim Capron with the Powell Valley Chamber of Commerce.

The class is sponsored by the Consumer Health Services Division of the Wyoming Department of Agriculture, the Powell Valley Chamber of Commerce Ambassadors and the Northwest College Center for Training and Development.

In accordance with the American Disabilities Act, special assistance or alternate formats will be made available for individuals with disabilities upon request in advance of the meeting.
